Engage Richland

Program Day Sponsor

The Engage Richland program wrapped up in March with an economic development program day. The day kicked off with an insightful discussion on county-wide initiatives with Richland Area Chamber & Economic Development President & CEO Ellen Heinz.

Economic & Community Development Director Jessica Gribben discussed Shelby initiatives and gave a tour of Blackfork Commons.

Left, the group traveled to Cooper Enterprises for a tour and discussion of its Closet Systems. Right, participants reflected on the program year and set goals for professional growth and civic engagement. These individuals will continue to drive positive change in our community.

Program Day Sponsor

In March, the group visited Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course for a discussion on the race season and the business operations supporting drivers and guests.

Lexington Mayor Bob Jarvis and Lucas Mayor Todd Hall discussed new businesses and developments in their villages, encouraging students to get involved in their communities.

The Lucas Community Center hosted the class for lunch and shared key services and events. Students also learned essential job search and interview strategies from Spherion Mid Ohio.

2024-2025 Presenting Sponsor

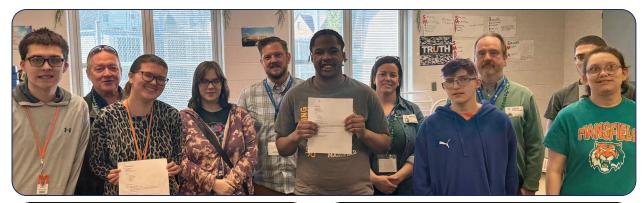

Program Day Sponsor

In March, the LU Class of 2025 had an insightful Community Awareness Day in parnership with Richland Newhope and then visited The Nonprofit Fair at The Ontario Center.

Class members traveled in groups to partner agencies including day habilitations, residential facilities, job training locations, and job sites. This interactive awareness activity is designed to foster a deeper understanding of individuals with disabilities and highlight the vital role Richland Newhope and providers play in supporting them.

LU participants attended the The Nonprofit Fair at The Ontario Center to discover volunteer and board positions that align with their interests. More than 40 nonprofits exhibited at tables around the mall, sharing their community impact and service opportunities. The list of nonprofits is available here - contact them and get involved. Special thanks to The Ontario Center for hosting the event, and the Leadership Unlimited Advisory Board for facilitating the event.
