How To Maximize Your Chamber Membership

Jennifer Wagner

Director of Member Engagement, Retention & Services

Dear Valued Chamber Members,

As business owners, professionals, and members of our local business community, we all balance full schedules and multiple demands. Even with the best intentions, it's easy to overlook some of the resources already available to us, including those that come with your Chamber membership.

Beyond events and networking, your Chamber membership is designed to support you in practical, meaningful ways. Here are just a few valuable benefits you may not be fully utilizing - and how they can work for you:

Visibility & Recognition

Whether you're looking to increase visibility or share key initiatives, the Chamber offers several channels to help promote your business. From monthly newsletters and weekly e-mail promotions to Community Guide advertising, these opportunities help extend your reach and strengthen awareness throughout the local business community.

Get Connected

The Chamber is often described as a connector, and that's intentional. Whether you're looking to meet other business owners, find a referral, or make the right introduction, we're here to help foster connections that lead to meaningful relationships. From popular events held throughout the year to committee involvement and our Ambassador Program, members have multiple ways to engage and build lasting connections.

Business Retention & Expansion

As part of our commitment to local business success, the Chamber works closely with partners to support business growth, expansion, retention and community development initiatives. If you're planning for growth, facing challenges, or simply want to talk through what's next, we're here as a resource.

Professional & Workforce Opportunities

From educational programming and leadership development to workforce and talent initiatives, the Chamber offers opportunities to support both your professional growth and your team's development.

Exclusive Member Discounts

Your membership also includes access to exclusive savings and programs, including health insurance and workers' compensation solutions, designed to help reduce business expenses and deliver meaningful value.

Referrals & Member-to-Member Promotion

One of the most valuable, and often overlooked, benefits of Chamber membership is member-to-member promotion. The Chamber helps connect businesses through referrals and recommendations that help keep business local, while members can also share exclusive deals on our website to further support one another. For example, Chamber members can enjoy a 10% discount at the YMCA and Mansfield Lube, Hercules Express Wash offers $5 off their most popular package - just a few of the many ways our members are investing in each other's success.

If you're unsure where to start or want to learn more about how these benefits apply to your business goals, please don't hesitate to reach out. Your Chamber membership is a relationship, and we're here to make sure you're getting the most value from it!

With appreciation,
Jennifer Wagner
Director of Member Engagement, Retention & Services

Women in the Arena: Using Emotional Intelligence to Thrive in Life

This series, designed especially with women in mind, is hosted by the Richland Area Chamber & Economic Development. Each month features powerful networking, a motivational "TED-type" talk, and the chance to learn more about our community. We look forward to having you join us!

Join us for an empowering session focused on using emotional intelligence to thrive in both life and career. This discussion will explore how women can leverage emotional awareness, communication, and other core strengths to navigate challenges, build confidence, and lead with purpose. Attendees will leave with practical tools and insights to apply immediately in their personal and professional lives.

Meet Our Speaker:

Randa Payne is General Counsel at Adena Corporation and Founder and CEO of Aim Construction Group. A Mansfield native and former college athlete, she holds a degree in Business Administration and earned her law degree from Case Western Reserve University School of Law, graduating cum laude.

Randa serves as Chair-Elect of the Richland Area Chamber & Economic Development and is actively involved on several local and regional boards, including workforce development, healthcare, and community leadership initiatives. She is passionate about leadership, service, and empowering others to succeed.

Meet Our Winter Marketing & Communications Intern

Kylie Hendrix
Winter Intern

This winter, Kylie will be joining the Richland Area Chamber & Economic Development team as a Marketing & Communication Intern under the direction of Marketing & Communications Director, Sandy Messner. Kylie recently graduated with a BA in Integrated Media in May and is also currently pursuing an MBA at Heidelberg University. During her undergraduate studies, Kylie was deeply involved on campus. She served as a Senior Resident Assistant, held leadership roles in multiple student organizations, and was a section leader in the band. After completing her MBA, Kylie hopes to pursue a full-time position in marketing or social media management.

Throughout her internship, Kylie looks forward to working on a variety of marketing and communications projects that support the Chamber and the local businesses. She is especially excited to connect with the community through Chamber events, learn multiple aspects of marketing, and continue building both her personal and technical skill sets. Kylie is extremely grateful for this opportunity, which will help prepare her for a successful future career.

We're thankful to the Richland County Foundation - Fran and Warren Rupp Fund, for funding Kylie's internship!

Would You Live in Downtown Mansfield?

A new community survey is gathering input on what it would take for people to live downtown... and we encourage our Chamber members to participate. Even if you have no plans to move downtown, your perspective still matters. Business owners, employers, property owners, and community leaders all play a role in shaping the future of our core districts.

affordability, and overall quality of life. The insights collected will help inform future planning, development conversations, and investment decisions tied to downtown Mansfield and surrounding areas.

Your voice can help guide projects that support economic growth, workforce attraction, and a strong sense of place. A few minutes of your time can contribute to long-term outcomes that benefit businesses, residents, and visitors alike.

Take the survey and be part of shaping what comes next:

During the January program day, the Leadership Unlimited cohort explored the full education and career pipeline, seeing how learners of every age are supported, challenged, and prepared for success.

At Mid-Ohio ESC, a dynamic K-12 panel featured Amy Wood, Nikia Fletcher, and Keith Strickler, who shared how schools are building career-connected learning through partnerships and CTE pathways.

Left, at North Central State College's Child Development Center, Wendy Thompson highlighted the foundational role of early childhood education. Right, the afternoon at The Friendly House showcased the power of youth development.

2025-2026 Presenting Sponsor

Program Day Sponsor

Engage Richland participants explored how local healthcare providers and agencies strengthen a thriving community during January's program day. Left: Third Street Family Health Services, OhioHealth, and Avita Health System highlighted community investments, health equity efforts, emerging technologies, and the future of care. Middle: The YMCA of North Central Ohio – Mansfield Campus shared its core values and showcased its recreation and wellness resources during a facility tour. Right: Richland Public Health Commissioner Dr. Julie Chaya outlined the programs and services available to businesses and residents, underscoring the department's role in a healthier Richland County.

Many Engage Richland class members supported the Mid-Ohio Youth Mentoring Drive at the Buckeye Imagination Museum, serving as mentors for the day as part of their capstone project.

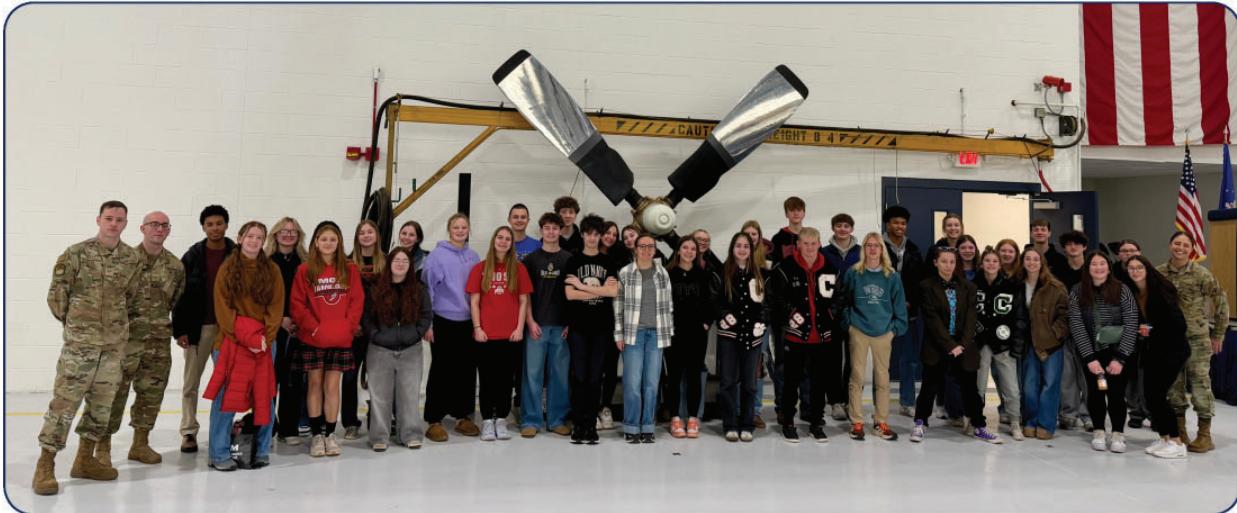

An event took place at Old Bag of Nails, allowing class participants to talk with mentors about workplace, career growth, and leadership topics.
